PREFACE

Employment Exchange Statistics are among the most important indicators, which provide useful insight about the employment and unemployment situation prevailing in the country. These statistics, generated as a by-product of the functioning of the employment exchanges, are compiled in the Directorate General of Employment and Training (DGE&T) at All India level and published in the form of this annual publication. Present publication is the sixth in the series and furnishes annual and time series data on various fields of activities of the Employment Exchanges such as registration, placement etc with a view to assess the manpower trends in the labour market. I hope this will meet the growing needs of manpower planners, researchers, job seekers, employers and other users.

2. I am grateful to the Directors of the Employment and their officials in the Employment Exchanges of the States and Union Territories for their co-operation in furnishing the information in the prescribed format.

3. I am also to place on record my appreciation of the work done by Dr. Dalip Singh, Dy. Director and the officers & staff of statistical section under the overall guidance of Shri P.K. CHAPTER – I

FRAME WORK FOR DATA COLLECTION

1.1 Introduction

National Employment Service which functions within the framework of the Employment Exchanges (Compulsory Notification of Vacancies) Act, 1959 provides registration, placement, vocational guidance and career counseling services to the job seekers and is the joint concern of both the central and the State Governments. It covers all the States and Union Territories except Sikkim with a network of 938 employment exchanges as on 31-12-2001. Administrative control of Employment Exchanges lies with the respective State/U.T governments. As part of their administrative functioning, Employment Exchanges collect data on various aspects of employment and unemployment and submit it to the Directors of Employment with a copy to Directorate General of Employment and Training (D.G.E&T). While the State Governments compile this data at the state level, D.G.E&T. compiles and releases this data at all India level.

Employment Directorate in the Directorate General of Employment and Training is responsible for laying down the policies, standards, norms and guidelines for coordination of the National Employment Service. In addition, it also evaluates and analyses employment and unemployment situation at all India level using various sources of employment data such as Census, Labour Force Surveys conducted by National Sample Survey Organisation, Employment Market Information Programme etc. In this publication, data arising out of functioning of employment exchanges is analysed to evaluate incidence of unemployment in the country.

1.4 Limitations of Data

Data flowing from the Employment Exchanges suffer from some limitations. These limitations arise out of the fact that the Employment Exchanges are mostly located in urban areas. The job seekers from the rural areas may find it difficult to register their names with the Employment Exchanges. Further, the registration of applicants with the Employment Exchanges is voluntary in nature. As such, the following limitations of the data may be kept in view while using the publication: -

- All the job seekers registered with the employment exchanges are not necessarily unemployed.
- All the job seekers or unemployed do not necessarily register themselves with the Employment Exchanges.
- In some exceptional cases there is a chance of duplication of registration.
- The job-seekers, when find employment through agencies other than Employment Exchanges do not intimate the Employment Exchanges for deletion of their names from the live register.
- Employers do not always intimate the Employment Exchanges about the selection of candidates even when selection is done from the list supplied by Employment Exchanges.
- There can be cases when job seekers could not renew their card within the stipulated period and by virtue of their non-renewal, their names get deleted from the live register.

Another important aspect is the fact that a number of registrants do have some employment or the other, but have registered for better jobs particularly in the Public Sector. A survey on the activity status of job seeker registered with the Employment Exchanges was carried out and report was published in 1990. On the basis of the survey, it was revealed that as per 'Usual Status' classification, 32.2% of the job seekers were employed, 55.8% unemployed and 11.8% pursuing further studies.

CHAPTER II

EMPLOYMENT EXCHANGES STATISTICS: AN ANALYSIS

In this chapter, Employment Exchange Statistics pertaining to the year ended December 2000 are presented. The number of job seekers on the Live Register of Employment Exchanges in the country has been classified according to various variables such as age, gender, education level etc. and analyzed with a view to understand the labour market composition.

2.1 LIVE REGISTER

Live Register consists of systematic arrangement of Index Cards pertaining to applicants who are in need of employment assistance and who are registered with the Employment Exchanges. Live Register, therefore, provides the total number of persons waiting for job as on a particular day. The number of job seeker on the Live Register of Employment Exchanges is often taken as an indicator of the level of unemployment in the country.

The data on year-wise total number of job-seekers registered with the Employment Exchanges, placement effected against the vacancies notified, along with the number of job-seekers waiting for the job at end of the year (Live Register) for the period 1992-2001 are indicated in Table-1. The salient features of the trends observed in Table No. 1 are given as under:

- As on 31st December 2001, a total of 420.0 lakh persons were waiting for jobs.
- The registration of job seekers during the period 1992 to 2001 varied between 53.0 to 63.2 lakh.
- The total number of vacancies notified during each of the years between 1992 to 2001 varied between 2.8 to 4.2 lakh. The highest (4.2 lakh) was in 1996 and lowest (i.e. 2.8 lakh) was in 2000. There was a continuous decline in the vacancies notified in the employment Exchanges since 1992.
- While the registration of the job seekers in a year remained more or less stable, the vacancies notified had a decline, resulting in a decrease in the placement effect by the Employment Exchanges.
- The placement, which was of the order of 2.39 lakh in the year 1992, has come down to 1.69 lakh in the year 2001.

- There was an imbalance between the registration and placement, as a result of which the number of job-seekers on the Live Register registered a continuous increase. The total number of job-seekers on the live register which was of the order of 367.6 lakh in the year 1992 has gone up to 420.0 lakh in the year 2001.

Live Register (Category-wise)

Year-wise Category-wise classification of number of job-seekers on the Live Register of employment exchanges was as given below:-

Percentage to Total are given in Italics

From the above table it can be seen that

- The numbers of women job seekers have increased from 80.2 lakh in 1995 to 104.6 lakh in 2000.
- The percentage of women job seekers to the total job-seekers has increased from 21.8% in 1995 to 25.3% in 2000.
- Similar trend is observed for the Live Register of SC/ST also. The Live Register of SC has increased from 51.0 lakh to 61.4 lakh and for ST this increased from 14.1 lakh to 18.6 lakh during the period 1995 to 2000.
- The Live Register of physically handicapped persons has increased from 3.5 lakh in 1995 to 4.9 lakh in 2000.
- The percentage of live register of physically handicapped to total live register has increased from 1.0% in 1995 to 1.2% in 2000.

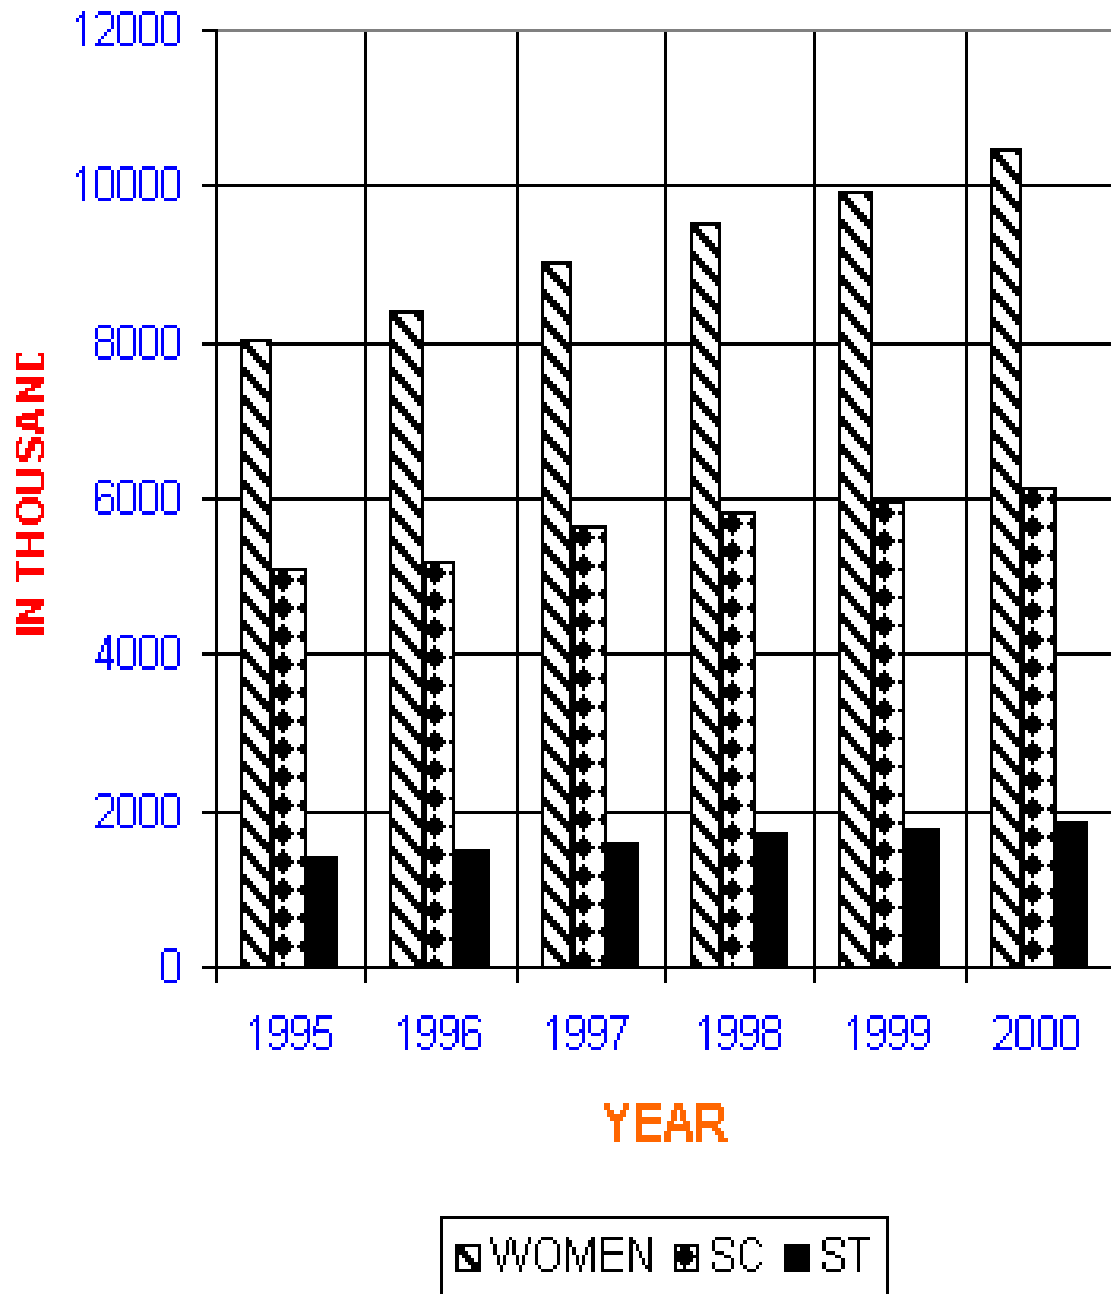

Graphical representation of category-wise live register for the period 1995-2000 is given in page no. 9.

Live Register (State-wise)

The State-wise distribution of Job seekers registered with Employment Exchanges for the year 2001 is indicated in Table-2. From the table it is observed that

- The maximum number of job seekers was in West Bengal (61.6 lakh), followed by Tamil Nadu (49.3 lakh), Maharashtra (44.2 lakh) and Kerala (44.1 lakh).
- The number of vacancies notified to the Employment Exchanges during the year 2001 were maximum in Gujarat (100.4 thousand) followed by Maharashtra (30.8 thousand), Tamil Nadu (22.3 thousand) and Kerala (18.4 thousand). In other States, the vacancies notified varied between 0.1 thousand to 16.0 thousand.
- The names of as many as 19.1 lakh job-seekers were sponsored by the Employment Exchanges and out of these only 1.7 lakh could find the placement, which is far less than the vacancies notified (3.0 lakh) during the year 2001.

CATEGORY-WISE LIVE REGISTER

2.2 Age-wise Distribution of the Job seeker

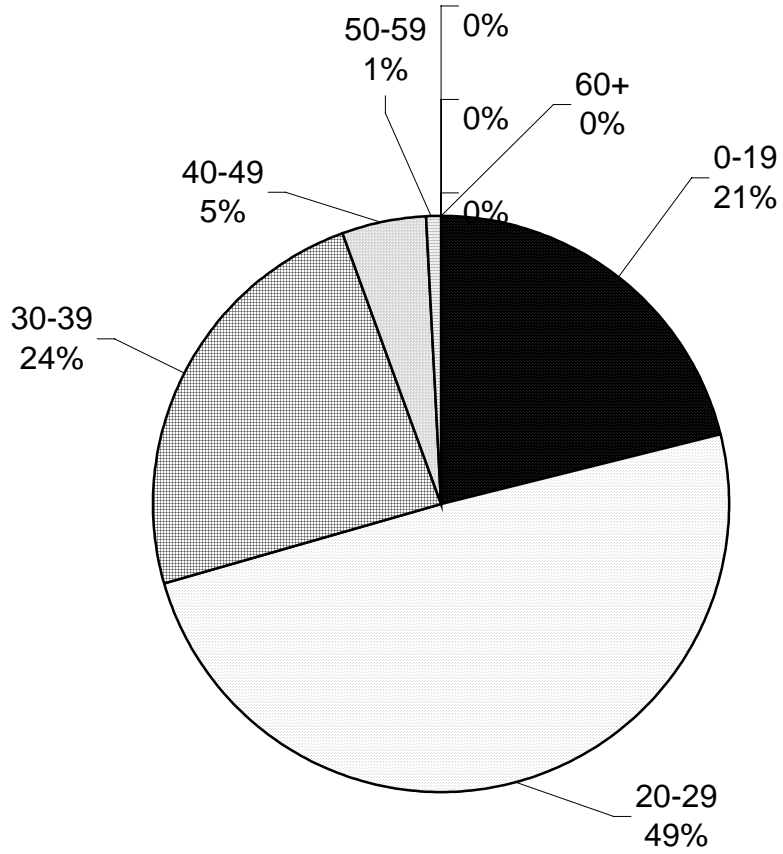

Age-wise distribution of the job seekers on the Live Register of the Employment Exchanges for the year 1994, 1997, 1998, 1999 & 2000 and its State-wise distribution for the year 2000 are given in Table-3 and Table-4 respectively. The age distribution for different years indicates the following: -

- Aged persons i.e. of age 60 years and above, were on the Live Register and their number in the year 2000 was 57.1 thousand.
- The number of job seekers in the age group of 20 to 39 years, which was approx. 78% of the total number of job seekers in the year 1994, has gone down to 73% of the total number of job seekers in the year 2000.
- The number of job seeker in the age group 20-29 years decreased from 58.6% of the total job seekers in 1994 to 49.5% in 2000.
- The number of job seekers in the age group of 30 years and above had increased during the period 1994 to 2000. The percentage of job-seekers in the age group of 30 and above to the total number of job-seekers which was of the order of 21.1% in 1994 has gone up to 29.3% in 2000.
- There is a gradual shift from the lower age (i.e. 20 to 29) to upper age (age 29 or more) from year to year, which indicates that job seekers face difficulty in securing suitable jobs at a younger age and continue in the register of the Employment Exchange.

When we look at the State-wise details for the year 2000 we observe the following: -

- 77.6 thousand persons with age 50-59 years were registered in West Bengal followed by 54.4 thousand in Bihar, 42.3 thousand in Kerala at the end of 2000.

AGE-GROUP WISE LIVE REGISTER AT THE END OF 2000

TOTAL LIVE REGISTER =413.4 LAKH

Graphical representation of age group wise number of job seekers at the end of the year 2000 is given on page no. 11.

The percentage of educated job-seekers to the total job-seekers has increased from 61.8% at the end of 1991 to 71.5% at the end of 2000. Year-wise details of the educated job-seekers are given in Table-5.

Educated SC job seekers have increased from 31.3 lakh (12.4% of the total educated) in 1996 to 40.7 lakh (13.8% of total educated) in 2000.
